

Head of Effective Practice - Permanent - Full Time 37 hours per week

The Risk Management Authority (RMA) is a Non Departmental Public Body which focuses on protecting the public from the risk of serious harm posed by violent and sexual offending.

The RMA has created a new Head of Effective Practice role to lead on a range of legislative duties and to promote effective practice.

The Role

The Head of Effective Practice will lead the Effective Practice team and national policy development and engagement with justice agencies in Scotland. The Effective Practice team will provide advice to Scottish Ministers on behalf of the RMA and will work closely with the RMA development and OLR teams contributing to research, training, Standards and Guidelines and Order for Lifelong Restriction functions.

The role has strategic responsibility for the above activities and will be required to formulate operational plans for the development of these areas. The role is required to develop and maintain stakeholder relationships, and contribute to the development, delivery and continual improvement of policy and practice.

The Person

This challenging post requires a range of experience and expertise in the field of justice. The successful candidate will have a substantial track record in leading policy development and engagement; have demonstrable leadership qualities and communication skills to engage and influence practitioners, senior managers, and policy makers; and importantly, will have a sound appreciation of the RMA's purpose, legislative duties and operations.

Full details are provided in the Job Description and Person Specification. To find out more about the RMA, please visit our website
